

ROBIN HOOD REVIEWS

Reviews of the premiere of ROBIN HOOD by Chesil Theatre Company in the Gardens of Wolvesey Palace, Winchester, England 12-16 July 2016

"This self-penned version of 'Robin Hood' has elements of 'Into the Woods' both literally (stunning outdoor location) and metaphorically, with familiar fairy tales and stories woven into the more traditional story of good vs evil, with all the yarns tied up at the end."

"The script was action-packed..."

"There were lots of clever elements, the script was great and the show flowed well."

Rebecca Case - Daily Echo/Hants Chronicle - 14 July 2016

For full review click here

"The whole script worked very well..."

"The whole play was very funny from start to finish with a lot of tongue-in-cheek humour throughout."

"I am waiting with baited breath to see more of this talented writer's work."

Bob Heather - NODA - 13 July 2016

For full review click here

"... a riot from start to finish..."

"... [Edgington] succeeded with aplomb..."

"...an evening of what can fittingly be described as fun, fun, fun."

David Craddock - Winchester Today - 19 July 2016

For full review click here

"... Edgington's roustabout new version of the Sherwood Forest classic tale..."

Ian Murray (Editor-in-Chief) - Daily Echo - 15 July 2016

For full review click here

"Though traditionally a mediaeval love story, Edgington and Humphrey seemed to take a much more comedic approach [which] went down a treat..."

Matthew Gibbions - CurtainUp South - 13 July 2016

For full review click here
